THE POLITICAL SITUATION .- A prominent Democrat, in conversation regarding the political situation, asserted publicly to-night hat the Democratic party would continue ts policy of opposition to the principles of reconstruction acts in all future elections, adding that finally the Supreme Court would sustain them, and predicted that the next Presidential campaign will be narved down to a struggle over the legality of the fourteenth amendment. In explanation, he declared that repudiationists, as well as anti-reconstructionists, would unite such a platform, because the amendment, while prohibiting the payment of the rebel debt, guarantees the payment of the national debt, and opposition to it is, therenational inclination of the great masses of the Democratic party .- Washington Correspondence Philadelphia Press, Oc-

The work of construction on the Bermenk railroad, to connect Georgetown with Alexandria and the Loudoun and Hamphire railroad, was commenced this morning, and a large force of workmen has been employed for steady work. The proposed road will be four miles long, and will run along the berme-bank of the canal. The work will be under the personal superintendence of Mr. Berkeley Ward, chief engineer of the Orange and Alexandria railroad, who made the preliminary survey. This road is designed to be a connecting link between the northern and southern railroads over the Aqueduct bridge, with the aid of the National Junction railway for the building of which road active steps are now being taken .- Washington letter in

MORE TOBACCO FRAUDS .- Supervisor Fulton, of Baltimore, reports the seizure of a of tobacco that was shipped as eggs. It has been discovered that tobacco comes from Virginia and North Carolina in large packing trunks, some weighing as much as three hundred pounds.

PIVE-CENT NICKELS TO BE REDEEMED .-The five-cent coins, not redeemable heretofore by Government agents, will be redeemed shortly, the Secretary intending soon to issue a circular to that effect. Assistant treasurers and designated depositaries will redeem them in packages of $100 and up-

FATHER HYACINTHE .- This worthy and much pestered gentleman desires the Tri-bune to say, in his behalf, as follows: Although thankful for the manifold tokens sympathy received at the hands of the American public, and which, in his opinon, express more than mere curiosity, the importunities of professional interviewers have forced the Rev. Father to give a standing order to the hotel employes not to bring up to his room the cards of visitors, except hose of the few intimate friends who always have free access to him. He formally denies certain statements which have appeared from time to time in some papers, as he has on no occasion expressed views different from those contained in his letter to the General of his Order in Rome, pubished in the Tribune of the 4th instant. The Father states that until present at the Œcumenical Council in Rome he will not express further his views and opinions; that he never has meddled with politics except so far as politics bear upon religion; that he is and will be a true and fervent Catholic, although opposed to extreme measures and outré sentiments detrimental to the welfare of the Church. He requests that during his further stay in the United States the public will extend to him that courtesy due to every foreigner, and to leave his further actions and movements unwatched and unrestricted; that all his visits to different places of worship, etc., are to be explained by the natural desire of stranger to see and hear those whose names are celebrated. THE CONNECTION BETWEEN THE SENSES-A REMARKABLE CASE.—In the last No. of the Mutes' Chronicle, published at the Deaf and Dumb Asylum in this city, Superintendent Fay has the following interesting account of one of his pupils named William E. Morfier: "This pupil, in his misfortune, illustrates the intimate connection between the senses of hearing and seeing in their origin. Last year, while a pupil at the Blind Asylum, he suddenly recovered his sight, with a simultaneous loss of hearing and power of speech. Accordingly, at the opening of this term he was transferred to this institution, and has been in all respects a genuine deaf mute. Last Sunday he was attacked with severe neuralgic pain in his head and chest, resulting soon in perfect restoration of hearing and the loss of sight, without even the power of raising the eyewithout even the power of raising the eye lids. His faculty of speech has not returned to him, but he communicates by the manual phabet. He still suffers considerable pain." lumbus Statesman.

These elections will close the political campaign for the present year.

Lynchburg Fair, &c.

Reported for the Dispatch. LYNCHBURG, VA., October 29, 1869. The crowd upon the Fair Grounds yesterday was even larger than on the day before-a low estimate placing the number of people at from six to seven thousand. Though the sky was clear, ungallant winds shook crinolines mightily, and caused many a one not in the habit of doing so to assume the "Grecian bend," with faces looking down to prevent the clouds of dust from putting their eyes out. Notwithstanding this disagreeable feature of the programme, the ladies, who were more numerous than we men, acted their part manfully(?) in the storm, and stood their ground throughout the day. Everybody seemed to be in an excess of enjoyment—some in inspecting the latest improvements of mechanical art, others in social conversations with old friends, others in looking upon the races, As we entered the grounds the first thing of interest that attracted our attention was seeing grown-up boys and men attempting to climb a smooth pole, about twenty feet high, with shoes, &c., on. Several succeeded in reaching an eminence of ten feet or so, but not one could touch the top. It was indeed amusing to see such a sight, and many a merry laugh was caused thereby.

The trial of ploughs on the farm of Mr. Frank Lee was largely attended by farmers. A brother of our countyman Mr. A. Plank, living in Cumberland, Penn. ; Perkins, Nelson & Co., of Staunton; Collins & Co., of New York; W. J. Keller, of Staunton; and the manufacturer of the "Watt Plough," from Richmond, exhibited and thoroughly tested their respective implements in turning heavy sod land.

Perhaps the most entertaining part of the programme yesterday was connected with entirely uninterrupted. Other leading theathe tournament, which begun at 3 o'clock tres in Europe will follow the example, he tournament, which begun at 3 o'clock P. M. and continued until nightfall. Major C. M. Blackford, of our city, delivered the charge to the knights (who were about thirty in number) in a very appropriate and interesting address. This being concluded, the knights proceeded at once, on fine chargers, to the race-course. In the contest Mr. Charles Hamner was thrown from his horse, though we are glad to say was not in the least injured. He had succeeded in taking all three rings, and would no doubt have been announced as the successful knight but for the accident, which prevented him from returning the ring to the standone of the requirements of the sport. As it was, Mr. J. A. Armistead, of this city, Knight of the Nursery, won the highest honor. It had to be submitted to a long contest who should be the honored ones to crown the Maids of Honor. Night coming on, the decision was postponed till to-day. The coronation ceremonies will take place to-day, and the ball to-night, at the Norvell Panification is the name now applied to a process of bread-making recently discovered and patented in France. This method dispenses with the grinding of the wheat, and, it is asserted, will produce 150 pounds of bread from 100 pounds of grain; while by the old plan of using flour only 112 pounds of bread are produced from the 100 pounds of wheat. The new kind of bread is said also to be of better quality than the old, as the gluten is not decomposed and lost by the heat of grinding. The new mode of fermentation, it is also asserted, contributes greatly to the whiteness of the bread.
